

THE RUMMER HOTEL

Wedding Brochure

Every couple's vision of the perfect wedding day varies.

From the most exquisite gown, to the deliciously mouth-watering cake, to the beautiful flower arrangements. So, here at The Rummer Hotel, we cater each wedding individually to the styles and tastes of each couple.

Offering a bespoke, personalised service, we cater for intimate wedding and civil ceremony receptions of up to 150 guests, with our events manager and professional team on hand to advise, guide and ultimately deliver the most exceptional day.

As each couple's wedding is a unique experience, we do not provide standardised packages. Couples can choose everything from the food and wine, to the music, table arrangements and so on, at a cost that is realistic and reasonable.

Our Head Chef Greg McHugh and his excellent team specialise in British dishes with a modern twist, sourcing all meats, fish and vegetables from local farmers and high quality reputable suppliers to make sure that all the produce used is fresh and perfectly seasonal.

No matter what style of wedding day is planned, our professional chefs can provide delicious bite size canapés, superb hot and cold buffets or a multi-course dining banquet.

Our bars holds over 400 quality spirits from around the globe; the largest collection in the South West, and a team of professional bartenders who know how to mix them.

We have a wide selection of bottled beers from both local and international producers, and a great cider from the West Country. The fine wine and Champagne list is also extensive and has won praise from many areas of the industry.

The Rummer Hotel occupies a listed building only a few meters away from the Bristol Registry Office, situated in Bristol's historic Old City Quarter.

An inn has stood on the site from the 1200s, and after being rebuilt in 1742, has played host to many historic events. In 1784 it was the destination of the first mail stagecoach from London. The poet S.T. Coleridge published his magazine, 'The Watchman' from the inn, and notably Elizabeth I, Charles I and II and William III are all reputed to have stayed at the inn on their civic visits.

In 2003, The Rummer fell back into private ownership, and after a 2-year restoration project of the grand old place, the doors on All Saints Lane were finally reopened in December 2005.

Two floors are now restored and available to hire for any type of reception; the main Ground Floor Bar and Restaurant holds up to 150 guests or the exclusive Cellar Bar which holds up to 60.

Both floors can also be hired simultaneously.

"We were married on what was our 20th anniversary to the day and wanted somewhere that we could have a great celebration of the last 20 years. The Rummer was the perfect venue, providing a wonderful space, amazing high end catering of an exceptional vegetarian buffet that was tailor-made for us, at an incredibly reasonable cost. From the start, Natalie and her team were fantastic at accommodating how we wanted the night to be and helped us achieve our hopes of a relaxed but plush party atmosphere. Her team worked seamlessly through the whole reception providing friendly, high standard service to 130 of us, and they said goodbye to us at 1am as warmly as they'd welcomed us seven hours earlier."

Kathryn & Jamie 10th March 2012

"We had the most wonderful time, thanks to Natalie and the Rummer staff. The venue looked absolutely gorgeous and Edward Allen's flowers were just stunning. We have had so many people complement us on the food, Greg's wonderful West Country inspired menu was amazing! The service was friendly, organised and unobtrusive, which is exactly what we'd hoped for. Tim and I are so pleased that we chose The Rummer as our reception venue. It's quirky and cool and showcases the best of Bristol hospitality!"

Sue & Tim 7th July 2012

"Our wedding reception at The Rummer Hotel was simply outstanding. The staff made us feel so special and looked after, the food was exquisite and plentiful, and the atmosphere was welcoming and relaxed. We could not have asked for more; they made our day perfect."

Briony & Steve 14th July 2012

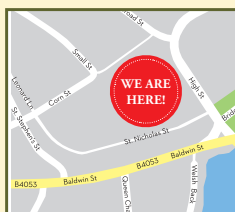

You can rest assured that you are in capable hands.

The management team have organised countless different styles of weddings and fulfilled numerous special requests. We never use agency staff as all of our team are service industry professionals, trained to the highest standard.

To arrange a viewing, or an informal chat with our Events Manager, please contact us on...

E: weddings@therummer.net

T: 01179 290 111

The Rummer Hotel
All Saints Lane
Bristol BS1 1JH
www.therummer.co.uk

We would like to warmly thank the couples featured in this brochure.
Photography by Rob Booker, www.robbooker.co.uk; Rachel Ramshall-Smith, www.ramshall.com;
Rosie Mayell, www.rosiemayellphotography.com.